

Dr. Maria Gaughan

Dr. Maria Gaughan is currently working as a consultant neurologist in St. Vincent's University Hospital and St. Luke's Hospital, Kilkenny.

She is an adjunct senior clinical lecturer in UL. She completed her clinical training in Beaumont, CUH, St. James Hospital and the National Hospital for Neurology in Queen's Square. She was awarded a Newman fellowship in UCD in 2018 and completed an MD under the supervision of Prof. McGuigan relating to biomarkers of multiple sclerosis. In 2021 she completed an Aspire fellowship examining provision of HSCT for multiple sclerosis in Ireland.