

Dr. Pat Moloney

Dr. Pat Moloney is currently in the final year of his Neurology Higher Specialist Training. Over the past two years, he completed a clinical research fellowship as part of the RCSI StAR MD programme under the supervision of Prof. Norman Delanty and Prof. Gianpiero Cavalleri.

His research involved the application of a precision medicine approach to a type of genetic epilepsy. Currently, he is undertaking a Richard Steevens Fellowship in Neurogenetics at the UCL Queen Square Institute of Neurology under the supervision of Nick Wood and Henry Houlden.