

Dr. Anna Whelehan

Dr Anna Whelehan is a Consultant Clinical Neurophysiologist who works in Beaumont Hospital, Dublin. Anna has recently set up a neuromuscular ultrasound clinic in Beaumont Hospital and uses ultrasound as a complimentary technique in the EMG laboratory to diagnose various peripheral nerve disorders.

Particular areas of interest include complex nerve conduction and EMG studies as well as botulinum toxin administration for focal dystonia under EMG guidance. Her PhD focused on environmental factors and endophenotypes in adult onset idiopathic focal dystonia.